WHO ARE WE?

Little Citizens For Climate is an association under the 1901 law, recognized as being of general interest, a member of the UNESCO Clubs, run about thirty volunteers in France, and also by 17 ambassadors abroad and two in the French overseas departments. It collaborates with 28 partners, 8 of which are located abroad.

The association's mission is to raise awareness of ecological issues throughout the world, for both young and old. Our volunteers of very different profiles and ages are grouped around 3 axes: to Act, to Exchange, to Learn.

At the heart of environmental concerns, our mission is to promote biodiversity, ecosystem degradation, climate change and resource depletion.

HOW?

By acting together in response to the environmental emergency!

LEARN

To understand and form your own opinion

The association develops:

- video interviews of scientists made by our Little Citizens
- teaching kits by and for teachers
- awareness-raising stories for children
- quizzes and games
- resources, articles, podcasts, etc.

Everyone can do their part, even the youngest ones!

The association provides them with:

- project support, methodological and technical support,
- communication tools, a website, social networks, 2 Youtube video channels,
- the support of an open, warm and friendly group in a caring and constructive atmosphere.

School in the spotlight

This is a section that relays the testimonies of teachers who show us how positive the awakening of young consciences is.

Young people speak out!

We provide our young members from all over the world with a communication platform so that they can exchange, support, develop and grow around the same values.

Supervised by our ambassadors, aged 8 to 18, their energy and passion are contagious. They have understood that time is running out and that only the will to be useful and constructive motivates them.
